GUARDIAN

Safeguarding nearly 7,000 MILES of land border the U.S. shares with Canada and Mexico
NOW HIRING

BORDER PATROL AGENTS are focused 24/7 on securing our international land borders and coastal waters, safeguarding the American people from terrorists and their weapons, drug smuggling and illegal entry of undocumented aliens.

CBP OFFICERS work in a fast-paced environment at more than 300 ports of entry throughout the U.S. and abroad, and are responsible for border security — including counter-terrorism, customs, immigration, trade and agriculture.

AIR AND MARINE AGENTS command multiple marine vessels, operate sophisticated detection systems, and fly airplanes, helicopters and unmanned aerial surveillance platforms to stop terrorist attacks and the unlawful movement of people, illegal drugs and contraband into the U.S. by land, air and sea.

With almost 60,000 employees, U.S. Customs & Border Protection (CBP) is the largest federal law enforcement agency charged with keeping terrorists and their weapons out of the U.S., while facilitating lawful international travel and trade. As the world's first full-service border entity, CBP takes a comprehensive approach to border management and control, combining customs, immigration, border security and agricultural protection into one coordinated and supportive activity.
